

GUIDE FOR CUSTOMERS ON USING THE MONEY TRANSFER UTILITY FOR STOCK PURCHASE ORDERS

DESCRIPTION OF THE UTILITY

The money transfer utility for stock purchase orders

a service that allows you to automatically transfer funds between your accounts if your order account lacks sufficient funds. When you place a buy order through EVS and the order account has insufficient funds, EVS's trading system will notify you to transfer the remaining amount from your other account to cover the shortfall in the purchase order. This replaces the need for you to manually transfer money internally or send a request to EVS to execute the transfer between your accounts.

The transferred amount will be from the Transferable funds field on your remaining account, which you can view on the Asset Summary screen.

III. HOW TO USE THE UTILITY

Note some special cases that may occur when using the utility

ACTIONS	RESULT
On the margin account, you mistakenly placed a Buy Order for a code outside the Margin Stock List: You selected Agree according to the Money Transfer Confirmation notification.	The money was successfully transferred but the Buy Order was not executed.
Placed a Buy Order close to the end of the trading session.	The money was successfully transferred but the Buy Order was not executed.
On the margin account, you selected Agree according to the Money Transfer Confirmation notification but due to many reasons (out of pool, out of room, margin account's loan limit has expired...)	When reaching the Order Confirmation step, the amount to be transferred is recalculated by the system to be different from the original Money Transfer Confirmation amount. → The system will resend a Money Transfer Confirmation notification with the updated amount to be transferred.

IV. HOW TO CHECK TRANSFERRED FUNDS

Log in to the Trading App and select Menu/Statement, select account and date to view detailed information on payment transfer of securities purchase orders.
